Digital Images Printed On Glass

Why restrict yourself to just colours on your glass?

With printed glass, you can let your imagination run riot!

There is no limit on how much wall space we can cover.

All glass printing is produced in our own workshops using the very latest digital printing techniques, the possibilities really are endless as almost any image can be printed onto glass.

Landscapes, sunrises or sunsets, family photos, images from photo libraries (*maybe subject to copyright), logos and words; as long as it's a high resolution image, our state-of-the-art equipment can print it.

This means our printed glass can be used for an even wider variety of applications, for example:

- Kitchen splashbacks
- Wall art
- Table tops
- Signage
- Wall cladding
- Shower cubicles
- Furniture
- Abstract

The stunning photographs in this brochure are the work of the photographer Richard Osbourne and it is our privilege to be working alongside him. Richard's collection of images can inspire you to create a natural, yet individual, living or work space. A large selection of these images can be viewed at our Printed Glass Gallery within our Horsham premises however, if you wish to see hundreds more, please go to www.southerncountiesglass.co.uk to view the Richard Osbourne Collection.

To order, either select a Richard Osbourne image or email your own image/photograph. sales@southerncountiesglass.co.uk

About Richard Osbourne

Richard Osbourne is a British photographic artist who specialises in creating art images that are printed at large sizes on walls.

Richard is passionate about bringing the magic of the natural world into our otherwise unnatural environments. Forests are a particular source of inspiration, particularly ancient woodland, which is now very rare in Britain. His images are super high resolution and often in panoramic format which captures the spirit of places in a far fuller and more inclusive way than single shots.

Richard also finds inspiration in many other places – from cities and architecture to the tiniest details of abstract nature – and has created unique ‘Kinetic Abstracts’ that bring great warmth, energy and colour to interiors.

A professional photographer since 2003, Richard’s artworks are now seen by over 8 million people in Britain every year: they are on the walls of hospitals, conference centres, offices, leisure centres and private homes.

Richard says: “The most important aspect of any of my images is that it must be beautiful. Fashions may come and go, but people of all ages and backgrounds are truly moved by images of beauty. They give meaning to life and lift the heart. Beauty is also timeless: these images have been taken to last many years, even decades without dating or aging.

My images are designed to provide harmony, happiness and delight in the environments in which they appear. I hope you enjoy living with my images as much as I have enjoyed creating them. I’m delighted to be working with Southern Counties Glass to bring my images into your living and working environments.”
